Violators of the Fish Laws Hauled Up and Fined on a Plea of Guilty.

Gang of Fish Seiners at Marion to Be Made to Suffer. While the Dynamiters in Eel River Will Not Get Off Easy.

INDIANA.

Officers Preparing to Raid the Fish Dynamiters in Clay County.

Erecial to the Indianapolis Journal. Marion, April 14 .- The first tangible reanlts of the raid against violators of the fish law here were recorded to-day. Allen Skinner, a saloonist, entered a plea of guilty to having had a gill net in his possession, and was fined $50 and costs. August De Pair, a veteran of the soldiers' home, also confessed to having taken four fish with a net. For each of these he is fined $5, and for putting a net in the river, $10. Commissioner Dennis was here to assist in the prosecution, but he was not needed. These men are known to be only a part of a gang that for years have been violating the fish laws with impunity, and the effort to bring them to book will end only when the violations shall cease. The friends of the law are determined to break up the gang, and put a stop to taking fish or game contrary to law.

CLAY CITY. April 14.-A Bowling Green correspondent of the Clay County Enterprise gave an account, a few weeks ago, of the trapping, netting, seining and dynamiting of tish at that place, and at other points along Est river, last year. The article has created a furor among the "local operators." The correspondent stated that hundreds of traps, seins and nets were used in capturing the large fish, and that the job was completed by using dynamite, thus destroying thousands of small fish. The impression seems to preval that, should the same methods be employed again this year, somebody will feel the clutches of the law.

RICHMOND, April 14. - A young man named G. L. Chase, a jeweler, aged nineteen years, committed suicide here this morning. He came home about 2 o'clock this morning, and after writing two notes, one to his mother, and another to Miss Gertrude Kelley, a young woman to whom he was engaged, he walked into the rear part of the building, and placing the muzzle of a revolver against his forehead, fired. The bullet lodged in the brain, and his death must have been instancous. In the letter to his mother he said that intended to kill himself because his brother was making trouble over him. He spent last evening with Miss Kelley. It was reported here that he and Miss Kelley were married at Springfield, O., last Monday, but this is not a fact. The deceased is a son of Jefferson Chase, of Mason, Ill., a former resident of this place, and the remains will be taken there for

Will Do Their Best to Elect.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. HARTFORD CITY, April 14.- The Republicans held a convention here last night to nominate town officers. The convention was advertised for the Circuit Court room, but long before the hour for organization it was packed so that later comers could not get in, and it was clear that more room was necessary; so the convention adjourned to Van Cleve's big opera-house and filled it. T. P. Van Winkle was chosen chair-man and E. D. Moffett secretary. All the nominations, except for marshal, were made by acclamation. There were four candidates for marshal; one ballot sufficed to pominate. The ticket is as follows: V. T. Morgan, trustee Fourth ward; R. A. Austin, trustee of the Fifth; Enos Cole, clerk; E. I. Winters, treasurer, and Edmond M. Hogan, marshal. From a doubtful majority three years ago, the party has grown until it is possible by getting out the vote to elect the entire Republican town ticket, giving to each not less than two hundred majority.

Combine Against the Tax Law. Special to the Indianapolic Journal.

LAPORTE, April 14 .- The First National Bank of this city, the Citizens' and First National banks of Michigan City, the Baltimore & Ohio and Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroads to-day refused to pay their State and county taxes to Treasurer Bosserman, of this city. These corporations claim that the levy, according to the odious Indiana tax law enacted by the last Legislature, is too high. They tendered the payment of the same taxes as they paid last year, which was refused. The matter will be carried into the courts, and to-morrow an injunction restraining Treasurer Bosserman from collecting the taxes as increased will be served on that official.

Horological College Sold. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

LAPORTE, April 14.—Parson's Horological School, the first of its kind in the United States, and which has been established here for seven years, has been sold to Peoria (III.) investors, and the entire plant, except the college buildings, will at once be moved to that city. The citizens paid a large bonus for it. This is unfortunate for LaPorte, but there is yet another college of the same kind here that will take

According to the document, Monroe employed the company to cure him of the liquor habit. The charge is made that the defendant pretended to be able with the so-called bi-chloride-ofgold treatment to effect a cure in six weeks. Monroe claims he was deceived by the Keeley company's advertisements and false representations, and placed himself under the care of the defendant with no good results whatever, but rather to the

GRATEFUL RUSSIANS.

How They Expressed Their Thanks for the Indiana's Cargo of Flour and Grain.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. PHILADELPHIA, April. 14.-The steamship Indiana arrived at her dock this moruing. Chief Mate Rodgers and ship's doctor Lahan are enthusiastic over the reception which was accorded the officers and men of the vessel by the people of Libau. The Mayor of the town as well as the most prominent of its citizens entertained them in a very hospitable manner. When the vessel left Liban, Captain Sargent had been presented with a handsome silver urn, on which was an inscription tendering the thanks of the people for his services in relieving their safferings. It is a delicate piece of workmanship, handsomely carved, inlaid with metals other than silver, and on the top is the head of a rein-deer, on the head of which is a fac-simile of the golden crown of Russia. The panels on the lid show the coat of arms of the city of Libau, the county of Libau, and of Rus-sia, as well as those of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and the United States. On the day the vessel sailed the women of Libau presented to Captain Sargent, for the women of this city, an immense basket of flowers, with a card on which was written their thanks for the part the women of this city had taken in giving them relief. A hand somely framed testimonial from the Mayor of Libau and the Council was sent to Mayor Stuart, and a copy was presented to Captain Sargent. The latter was also pre-sented with two loaves of bread, made by Russian women from the flour which was a part of the Indiana's cargo. He also received a piece of a loaf made from the same material and which had been formally blessed after very appropriate ceremonies by the Bishop of the Greek Church of the church at Libau.

STORM OF WIDE AREA.

Telegraphic Circuits Knocked Out by Snow

CHICAGO, April 14.-Long-distance telegraphing was rendered an impossibility today. To an almost unprecedented extent the circuits stretching from Chicago and noted among electricians as among those of greatest continuous length in the world, became affected last night and this morning by the furious snow, wind and rain storm, which, to a great degree, seemed to cover the larger portion of the United States, with Iowa in the lead with eighteen inches of snow on the level. From Cleveland, O., to Denver, Col. was, apparently, the worst stretch, and in the vast region between the two cities named the wrecked and bedraggled iron strings, judged from results in Chicago, were in nearly a comatose condition. In order to maintain communication at all such circuits as ex-hibited any life were ordered cut up into fractions of their usual length, and with extra relays of operators an unequal struggle was waged with the elements. The Troubles in Wyoming.

WASHINGTON, April 14.- The following telegram from General Brooke, at Omaha, contains the latest information received at the War Department relative to the troubles in Wyoming:

"In obedience to his instructions, Colonel Van Horn, with three troops of cavalry, left Fort Mckinney at 20'clock on the morning of April 13 and arrived at the T. A. ranch at 6:45, where he received the surrender, without bloodshed, of Maj. Wolcott and forty-five men, with forty-five ritles and forty-one revolvers, about five thousand rounds of ammunition and fortysix horses. He holds them now at Fort McKinney as prisoners until further orders from me. The Governor of Wyoming has requested that these prisoners be sent to Douglass, Wyo., and says, owing to the excitement in northern Wyoming, he will not at this time go to that section. Unless otherwise instructed I will send the prisoners to Douglass, Wyo., under a suitable

There are countless little remembrances-blotters, booklets, dollies, shaving-cases-that assume an Easter complexion, if cut in the shape of some Easter flower-a water-lily, daffodil, or the ecclesiastical fleur-de-lis. Pretty bon-bon bags are made of large os-trich-shells, painted in liquid gold, and lined with silk glued to the inner edge, and gathered with ribbon draw-strings run in casings at the top. But flowers are. par excellence. the Easter gift. Easter is a memorial festival, and flowers are sent on Easter morning to bereaved friends, or memorial offerings of flowers to the churches. Potted plants or packages of seeds are given out in some churches to their Sunday-school scholars at the Easter session. The flowers raised from the seeds are sent to the hospitals during the summer, and the vegetables distributed among the poor, often decking the church first on Easter Sunday.

Twenty Thousand Persons Will Grab for the Land of the Sissetons To-Day.

School-Ma'ams and Other Women Among the Number Who Will Cross the Line When the Bugle Sounds-Oklahoma Sooners.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. St. Paul, Minn., April 14.-There will be a scramble for the land of the Sissetons tomorrow. Such is the tenor of advices from various points to-night. A dispatch from Brown's Valley, Minn., says: "Brown's Valley has never had such a spectacle in its history as was presented to-day. The streets were filled with fantasticallydressed Indians, and there were hordes of tin-horn speculators. To-morrow all the available troops will be deployed into a vidette line, surrounding the reservation on its north and east boundaries. Major Bernard will himself proceed to the point of the bluff west of here, with a bugler. The bugle signal will open the firing, which will be carried along the line, each man firing one shot. At that instant there will be a helter-skelter rush for the town site, twelve miles north and fifteen miles west of the valley. The scene at the gun-fire will be a wild one. At least one hundred horsemen will engage in a desperate scramble over the reservation for the future Sisseton City. Misses Mamie Shaler and Bessie Cole, two pretty Anamosa, Ia., school-ma'ams, are here after land. They are unprotected, but expected a brother to arrive to-day. Every man in the crowd here has sworn to see the girls located on the best half sections of the reservation. The roughest camper treats them with consideration and courtesy. There are a half dozen young women here altogether."

A dispatch from Watertown, S. D., says: 'The land agents who have soldiers' powers of attorney to file declaratories are wild over the ruling of Commissioner Car-ter, and have prevailed upon the Grand Army post to petition President Harrison for its abrogation, but the general opinion is that the ruling is fair and just to all. Everything is quiet and orderly. Company Hof the local militia was ordered to the reservation at noon to-day. The country has been scoured for miles, and every vehicle pressed into service. Three farmer girls have set their hearts on securing an especially fine tract in the interior, and will try their hand in a fifteen-mile race to-morrow. The rain has ceased, but the mud renders the streets almost impassable. Advices from Wilcutt, S. D., report that the first train into the reservation will pull out from there to-morrow morning. There will be fifteen coaches, and it is estimated that fully five hundred will take passage. The crowd there numbers fully 1,500 men. Excitement runs high. Governor Mellette and distributing agent Alerod arrived there to-day, and were met by agent McCusick, of the Sisseton agency. Reports from other points show that at least twenty thousand persons will participate in the rush for Preparations in Oklahoma. Special to the Indianapons Journal. GUTHRIE, O. T., April 14.—Governor Seay returned from the Cheyenne and Arapahoe reservation to-day, and is to-night closeted with the special agents of the government completing arrangements for the opening. To-morrow morning be will appoint fourteen officers for the counties, so that they can organize at once and be ready to transact county business from the hour of opening. The new probate judges will at once go to their respective county-seats and approve the survey and plats, so they will be ready to open at the hour which the Governor may proclaim. This hour will probably be 3 o'clock P. M., April 19, although it has not been definitely fixed as yet. The opening of these towns three hours after the reservation is to prevent "sooners" from getting all the best lots before honest settlers can arrive. A company of cavalry at each town will keep everybody off the site until the crowd has time to gather about the town. This will make a show as the man with the race-horse.

a wild and dangerous rush into every town. but will give everybody an equal chance. The man with the ox team stands as good Although all the available troops in the Southwest are guarding the line of the reservation, they are inadequate to the task of keeping the "sooners" out, and hundreds of them are now entering the reservation. It is estimated by the Governor that fully five thousand people are now illegally within the borders of the reservation. A large number of United States marshals have been sent in to "spot" these people, but there are hundreds of ravines and thickly-timbered valleys where they can hide perfectly safe from discovery. More troops are arriving daily, and the line of guards is being drawn closer around the lands. The crowd at E Reno has become so large that it is entirely unmanageable. The jail and city lockup are both crowded with thieves, gamblers and whisky peddlers, and more arrests are being made hourly.

Many negroes still continue to arrive from the South. One car-load came in today. They were absolutely destitute, and many were suffering. When they left the Mississippi river there were four hundred in the party, but only seventy reached here, the others having been dropped at various places on the way or died en route. Three have died since their arrival here. They will certainly perish if they remain, for there are no poor-houses in this country. and people cannot support the paupers of other States by private charity.

THE BALLOON IN WARFARE,

Uses to Which the Gas-Bag May Some Day Be Put, but Not Yet, Baltimore American.

Again it is boldly stated in cable dispatches that the Germans are using balloons to inspect the Russian fortifications on the border and the disposition of Russian troops near the German boundary line. The balloons, it is said, are navigated with ease, and sail in any direction desired, in spite of air currents, and can be held stationary for long periods of time. It is difficult to believe these reports. If they are correct the navigation of the air is no longer in an experimental stage: the problem has been solved. The reports are not from one spot, but from a number of points along the frontier widely distant from each other. The Russians are represented as exasperated, and as having vainly fired at the air ships, the occupants of which continued their investigation as serenely as though they were hovering safely over | April 1, address

It is this which creates the impression that the correspondents have given to the public the highly-colored reports of casual spectators, rather than the correct details of these balloon and drilling balloon corps, rather than strengthening the present military system of the empire. A couple of thousand bal-loons, dexterously managed, could speedily dispose of the mightiest army that could be brought together. Nothing could resist such an onslaught, and the German Em-peror could snap his fingers at his foes or
